FRANK E. BOWE, Editor and Publisher

Notwithstanding what our Bennington contemporary, the Evening Banner, says in regard to the absorption of the three Normal schools into a central institution we claim that such an action would prove a handicap to education especially in the northern counties of the state. The Banner maintains that:

"With one central Normal school, equipped as it would be possible to fit out a single institution, many of the defects now so apparent might be remedied and the profession of teaching in Vermont brought to a much higher plane."

While theoretically the Normal schools are designed in the matter of curriculum to instruct students in the profession of school teaching practically these schools are institutions where young men and women of very moderate means secure an education at a cost far less than in other institutions, giving their students the same course of study.—Hyde Park News and Citizen.

The Banner was not aware that the Vermont Normal schools were maintained for the purpose of providing a general education for young men and women of moderate means but had supposed that the institutions were designed and conducted to instruct persons who intended to follow the profession of teaching. If the normal schools are in reality academies this fact perhaps accounts for the low standing of the graduates in the eyes of the educators of the state when they make their selections for teachers' positions, and award the better paid and more responsible appointments to the graduates of institutions outside of Vermont. We still hold to the original contention that the money that Vermont is able to expend in this direction should be put into a single institution and to this we add that this one school should be operated for one sole purpose, the better education of the teachers who are to take charge of the schools of the state. Our Hyde Park contemporary asks that the present normal schools be let alone for the reason that they provide an education that doesn't cost much, and yet this reduction in expense to a comparatively few young men and women results in an affliction and loss to nearly every boy and girl who attend the public schools in that these pupils, taught by graduates of inferior institutions, are not receiving the quality of instruction that is their due.

Constipation

Should not be neglected. It leads to more serious troubles. It shows that the important functions of the liver are imperfectly performed. The best medicine to take for it is the mild, gentle and purely vegetable cathartic. Prepared by E. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists and sent by mail. Price, 25c. If made by Hood It's Good.

We Like Good Things

So do you—who does not? Yet good things are expensive, most people think. Now, this isn't necessarily true. Intelligent buying by the merchant, cash in hand, produces wondrous results. Here is a small list of very high grade merchandise reasonably priced:

French Blanket Bath Robes $5.00
Genuine Terry Robes $4.00

Cape Gloves (Kasan stock) with a camel's hair knitted lining, no seams. The equal of any $4.00 imported gloves. $2.50

Cape Gloves (Kasan stock) all silk lined with an extra stitching each side of all seams so silk cannot possibly pull out. $2.00

Electric Seal Gauntlets, wool lined $3.00

Genuine Reindeer lined with fine coney fur, sold by New York stores at $5.00. $4.00

Pure Linen handkerchiefs in fancy boxes, one-half dozen—all initials. $1.38

All Silk Hose, in black, $1.00

SPECIAL

There should be a demand in Bennington for very fine manicure sets. We hardly think any merchant sells them, therefore we have imported from Herman Baker of Germany a line of the finest produced by him. They are the world famed "Tree Brand" goods and there is no finer steel produced. Edge will hold for years without sharpening. These manicure tools are put up in genuine pebble morocco cases plush lined.

No. 1 set, No. 2 set, No. 3 set, No. 4 set, No. 5 set.

No low or medium priced goods will be dealt in under any consideration, as we do not care to break into the regular trade of any of our esteemed fellow merchants.
